Art. 2 – The purpose of the festival is to promote the art of film making in all its shapes and to emphasise the variety and richness of the medium as an art form.

Art. 3 – The festival has an Official Selection with films in and out of competition. It also includes various side-sections outlined in articles 8 to 11 below. All films (except for the retrospective titles) will be screened in at least their Belgian première (so not shown in Belgium before).

Art. 5 – Film Fest Gent annually invites minimum 12 and maximum 15 films for its thematic competition focusing the jury's and audience's attention to the creative contribution of the soundtrack/music to the overall effect of a film. This competition is reserved to non-musical fiction films, i.e. films that do NOT owe their existence to music. These films have a minimum duration of 70 minutes. For each competing film a composer, music supervisor or sound designer (or comparable credit) will be credited. The competing films come from at least 6 different countries and not more than three from one country can participate. The aim is that at least 50% of the competing films have no Belgian distributor.

Art. 6 – On proposals of the organising committee, an international jury is assembled, made up of at least five personalities from the field of cinema and culture that have displayed a proven competence in cinema. It will not include any members who may have co-operated in the creation of any of the competing films. A festival's representative can be present at the jury meetings as consultant in matters of regulations and procedures to be followed. The vote of the president will count double should jury voting come to a repeated draw.

Art. 16 – Film prints (DCP, 35 mm, HDCam, Blu-Ray or digital file) are to be sent to the festival under permanent import upon the festival's written request to the following address:

Film Fest Gent - Print Office
Leeuwstraat 40b - B-9000 Ghent (Belgium)

Films from abroad must be in Belgium by 4 October 2022. Shipment to the festival is at the festival's charge, provided the film is sent through the festival's transport agent FEDEX (our account number is available upon request). The festival will not accept shipment charges of prints sent through other carriers or by mail. Unless written instructions are given by the producer or his representative (before 15 October), the prints will be returned to the sender's address no later than 31 October 2022 at the festival's charge. Prints are forwarded to other destinations (festivals or exhibitors) only after receipt of the participant's written instructions and the addressee's written confirmation that he will take charge of that shipment. Prints brought hand-carried to the festival are only accepted in very exceptional circumstances and by no means oblige the festival to cover the carrier's travel expenses. Once a print has arrived at the festival, it is not sent forth and back to other festivals or exhibitors (national nor international). The festival is not responsible for late arrival of a print during the transport to and from Belgium. If late arrival due to late delivery by sender of a print causes a screening to be cancelled, the cost of transportation of that print will be at the sender's charge.

Art. 17 – The festival will insure all films from their departure to Belgium until their final delivery to the sender. In case of loss or damage, the insurance policy provides for the reimbursement of the cost of replacing the lost or damaged material to the producer, in the country of production, upon presentation of the invoice (print value as mentioned in the online entry form), based on the current lab rates. If no print value is mentioned in the online entry form, the minimum value assumed by Belgian labs will be considered the standard.

Art. 18 – Each film is shown a maximum of four times to the public. In addition, the festival may decide to organise one press screening. For each extra screening, the festival will send a written request to the rights owner.

Art. 19 – Invitation for film makers will always depend on available budget. They will in each case result in the waiving of each possible form of screening fee.

Art. 20 – All films will receive equal treatment. The festival will not apply any censorship in any shape or form. The festival pledges not to screen a film before the official screening or before any general presentation to the press, unless the right owner's explicit permission is first obtained. The festival guarantees top quality organisation as well as the best possible technical equipment and accessories for screening.

6. Miscellaneous matters

Art. 21 – The organisers will publish an illustrated catalogue of the complete festival programme. The festival also publishes its programme (with synopsis, credits and stills) on the festival website.

Before including a film in this library, the organisers will request the rights owner's authorisation in the online entry form or through a separate mailing.

Art. 23 – The English and Dutch versions of these regulations are applicable. All correspondence regarding these regulations must be in writing.
